At the special election held at Capac July 20th the proposition to bond the village for $7,000 for the completion of the water works system was lost by 9 votes. The vote was a light one and, owing to the immediate indebtedness, the proposition will have to be re-submitted.
Yale of late has been infested with several able-bodied beggars soliciting aid from our townspeople. Our advice to those who feel disposed to be liberal and aid such professionals who make a business of begging, that it would be much better to establish a fund here and help our own poor and crippled, then you could determine if the one receiving assistance was deserving.

At a recent meeting of the school board the contract to build an addition to the high school building was let to John Tait, of Battle Creek, he being the lowest bidder. The building is to be completed by Nov. 10th or sooner. The $17,000 bond issue bearing 4 1/2 per cent interest was sold to Noble Moss & Co., of Detroit, at a premium of $350. The contract for the heating and ventilating of the school building is yet to be let.
Elam Sloat, who owns and operates a fine farm in the township of Speaker, has been quite sick for the past five weeks and unable to work. The trouble started from a cold which settled on his lungs leaving him in a very weak condition. His limbs bother him and he is compelled to sit in a chair most of the time. Mr. Sloat's many friends hope his trouble may not prove serious.

"It is better to be sure than to be sorry." Blood poisoning is as liable to follow a pin scratch as a bullet wound; a strained muscle may mean the loss of the use of a limb. "A little leak may sink a great ship." Don't neglect such things; don't put off attending to them quickly. We sell Greene's Infallible Liniment and guarantee it positively to afford immediate relief and quickly and surely heal cuts, bruises, burns, wounds, muscle soreness, sprains and aches. Your money back if you want it more than you want the liniment. Mathews & Wight.

Coleman suffered another loss by fire at 1 o'clock Saturday morning last. This time it was the Coleman House, an old landmark and owned by Gov. Bliss, of Saginaw. The alarm was given just in time to allow the guests to flee for their lives by the way of windows and stairs. All the boarders lost their trunks and whatever effects they possessed. B. L. Brown, who operated the hotel, lost $1,000 in furniture and supplies with no insurance. The J. M. Clark livery barn also went up in the flames but the horses and outfits were saved. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Dr. Pollock has discarded horseflesh and now sports an automobile which he will employ in visiting patients in the country or even within the village limits. This conveyance is always in readiness and when the Dr. has a hurried call he can make it in a jiffy. Geo. Yokum, of Port Huron, sold the machine and made the delivery on Wednesday. Messrs. Many a person goes to the day's work or play dull, listless, dispirited. They don't know what real joy there is in life. A sane mind is only possible in a sane body.
